SUY-190

CONCEPT

SUY-190 is a Utility Yacht® that maximizes entertainment at sea, in nature, and during adventures. Achieved through innovative design, this yacht series, excels in carrying numerous tenders, amenities, and toys. Exceptional space allocation, volume utilization, and handling equipment design make SUY-190 truly unique, combining the classic motoryacht aesthetics with the commanding appeal of an Expedition Yacht.

SUY-190

The SUY line of ‘Sports Utility Yachts’, was developed by Aldo Manna, Partner and Sales Director for Antonini Navi, together with Fulvio De Simoni who has designed many iconic yachts over a longstanding career.
Comprising three models, the SUY 108, SUY 135, and SUY 190, the concept seeks to fulfil the growing demand for a brand-new superyacht class with allround seafaring ability – able to sail in deep waters with comfort and luxury, but remaining in close contact with the ocean and marine life.

Sporting an innovative layout with a raised aft deck that’s separated from the saloon by a lower-level veranda, more privacy is created for when the yacht’s in port and, at the same time, a versatile hangar space for use as a beach club or storing additional toys.

YACHT DESIGNER

FULVIO DE SIMONI

Fulvio de Simoni initiated his career in the 1970s. Known for his multifaceted, innovative, and non-conformist design approach, he collaborated with shipyards globally and contributed to the construction of over three thousand boats, earning numerous awards.

"We are delighted to have this cooperation with Antonini Navi, a brand born under the flag of Gruppo Antonini, an Italian builder with over 70 years' experience in naval construction and the operation of offshore oil and gas field structures.
For over four years, Antonini Navi has been building hulls for other major names in luxury yachting and the launch of their own superyacht line has already seen encouraging commercial results. The SUY series is an interesting and innovative concept with big volumes and great capacity whilst, at the same time, special attention is given to the yacht owner's privacy and life-style." –Alessandro Diomedi, Sales Broker at Moravia Yachting
